Windows Enterprise Announcement
Changes Completed Week of July 4, 2005

July 5, 2005 – Forest and Domain to "Windows Server 2003" Functional Mode

The Windows Enterprise Domain had the "functional levels" for both forest and domain switched to "Server 2003" on July 5, 2005. This switch will result in internal efficiency changes and will have no effect on daily operations.

If you care for more details about what this switch will do, refer to the following Microsoft document (we were running in "Windows 2000 native" mode when referring to the tables):
