May 18, 2009 – Delay - Active Directory DC Upgrade Rollout Schedule

On May 18 ITS was supposed to have introduced a temporary test DC (WINDC1A) running on Windows Server 2008. We have run into a problem that did not show up in the lab but does appear in the production domain. This problem prevents us from installing the test DC at this time (the problem relates to password synchronization with the UNIX domain). This will undoubtedly delay the test DC and the upgrades of the first production domain controllers.

When we have solved the problem we will re-evaluate the schedule and announce a new one.
